Your adventures begin in Gladstone Keep, where you have been summoned by King Richard to assist in solving the problems plaguing the lands. Once you have been greeted by the Keep Guards, they will prevent you from leaving until you’ve seen the King in his Throne Room. Keep going north (the direction you were facing as the game began). You’ll know you’re near the Throne Room when you meet a second brace of guards who remind you of the need to see King Richard. They stand just in front of the golden doors to the Throne Room.

After you’ve seen the King, use the key he has given to you to pick up the Magic Atlas, which will be enormously useful in your adventures. Before you leave the keep, you will also need to see Geron in his office, to pick up the Royal Writ which grants you passage to the Southlands. You cannot leave the Keep without this writ.

You may also visit the armorer and the herbalist before leaving the Keep. From these you may purchase weapons and medicinals to help you on your journey. You can visit them later when you return to the Keep.
GLADSTONE KEEP

1. Guard at regular post.

2. Fountain. Sometimes there may be a silver crown in the fountain.

3. Royal Herbarium, managed by Nathaniel. Salves, ginseng, and aloe can be purchased here.

4. Royal Armory, supervised by Victor. Daggers, maces, rapiers, and long swords can be purchased here. Victor will also buy items from you, and pay you in silver crowns.

5. Throne Room. You must report here when you first begin your adventures. Here, King Richard will give you your mission to go to Roland in the Southland Forest. The king also gives you the Library Key for the Royal Library (see 6 and 7), in which you can find the Magic Atlas. After you return from Roland's Manor, here you will witness Scotia's attack on Richard. Baccata will then replace Timothy as your guide to further adventures.

6. Using the Library Key (see 5) on this lock will open the door to the Royal Library (at 7).

7. This door is opened when the Library Key is used on the lock at 6.

8. The Magic Atlas is here on a pedestal. Click on the book to pick it up.

9. Geron's office. You must see Geron to get the Royal Writ. Without this, you cannot leave the Keep.

10. To the Northland Forest outside. The Keep guards will not let you leave until you have the Royal Writ (from 9).
After you leave the Keep, you will wander through the Northlands. Primarily, your object is to get to the Gladstone Marina, where you will use the Royal Writ to get you to the Southlands. There are many useful and interesting diversions for beginning adventurers in the Northlands. There are a number of odds and ends lying in some hollows and nests in the forest. You might find these items useful, and you might also want to sell them back to Victor inside Gladstone Keep for extra pocket money.

There are wild boars roaming the forest. Don't hold your hand when you encounter them; they'll try to kill you anyway, so you might as well kill them. Don't forget, though, if the fighting gets bad, you can always back out. Fighting boars is a good way to start building your skills.

You can also practice Magic and Fighting skills against a few thugs who are hiding in the forest. You'll encounter at least one, who will try to hold you up. Later, if you're feeling particularly aggressive, you can fight the thugs at their own hideout. Afterwards you can loot their hideout and "recover" some useful Gladstonian items that you’re sure Richard would want you to use for the quest. Once you purge the Northlands, you might want to return to Gladstone before heading to the marina. Selling the valuable Swarm items to the armorer will gain you enough crowns to buy the mighty longsword!

1. Swarm, and either a weathered dagger or a pouch with 5 silver crowns.

2. In the nest there is a chance of getting aloe, salve, silver coins, or Swarm.

3. Swarm.

4. Aloe in the hollow.

5. Rock.

6. Weathered dagger.

7. A thug may accosts you here, demanding money. You can either give in, bluff, or outright defy him. Giving in will prevent a fight, even if you have only one silver crown left to give him. If you have more than one silver crown and you want to hold onto the cash, try bluffing, and give him only one crown. He might buy it. He might not. If he doesn’t, you’ll still have a fight on your hands.

8. Here you run into a couple of thugs yukking it up over a campfire. You have the options of leaving, sneaking past them into their hideout, or attacking them.

9. Entrance to the Thugs Hideout.

10. A woman awaits you here, explaining that she has forgotten the password to admit her into Gladstone Keep. She asks to accompany you back to the Keep. When you refuse, she uses the power of the Nether Mask to transform into a bird and flies away before you can do anything. It’s Scotia!
11. After visiting the Draracle, you find Timothy here, in his last moments. He tells you about the fall of Gladstone Keep, and beseeches you to find Dawn and save the King.

12. To Gladstone Keep.

13. To the Draracle Caves. After visiting the King to report the fate of Roland, you will need the help of Dawn’s apprentice to enter the Caves.

14. Lake Dread. After visiting the Draracle, Victor will be waiting for you at Lake Dread and will arrange transportation for you across the lake and will give you a longsword.

15. Gladstone Marina. To get to the Southland Forest you’ll need to book passage through the Gladstone Marina. The Royal Writ, acquired from Geron, should grant you free passage.
After beating up the thugs at the campfire, you are free to go into their hideout and "recover" their loot— all in the name of good King Richard, of course. If you crept past them to get into the hideout, you may run into them in the caves, or on your way out again. If you took care of them outside the cave, well, you won't have to worry, then.

There are a few minor puzzles to loosen up your "dungeon puzzle" thinking and to get you used to night vision. Barring that, however, there is a lantern here, which will prove very useful in your spelunking in later adventures.
THUGS HIDEOUT

1. To the Northlands.

2. Rock.

3. This lever opens the wall at 4.

4. This wall is removed when the lever is pulled at 3.

5. Lantern.

6. Torn shirt and weathered dagger.

7. A hidden button on this wall opens a niche at 8.

8. This niche is opened by the button at 7. Inside the niche is a key for the chest at 15.

9-11. Thugs vault. There is already a rock weighing down a pressure plate at 9. To open the passageway at 11, remove the weight from 9, and place two objects to weigh down the pressure plate at 10.

12. This pressure plate temporarily opens a passageway at 14. Stepping on the plate is the only way to trigger it.

13. A sequence of secret buttons will open the wall again. First, a button appears on the south wall. Press this button, and another button will be revealed on the north wall. Press this button and then depress the final button on the west wall to open the passage at 14.

14. This wall is permanently removed when the sequence of buttons is completed at 13.

15. This chest is opened by the Thugs Key found in the niche at 8. The chest contains: lockpicks, salve, a Bezel cup, and 10 silver crowns.

16. Pouch with silver crowns.
In the Southlands, your primary goal is to find Roland and recover the Ruby of Truth so that you may return it to King Richard at Gladstone. Timothy, an experienced guide and friend of Gladstone, can be found in the Grey Eagle Inn and would be happy to help you. In the Southlands you’ll run into lot of trouble from giant Lizards and Orcs. Again, it’s a good opportunity to brush up on your fighting skills, and most adventurers will find Timothy’s sword arm invaluable in these fights. Don’t forget that whenever Timothy (or any other companions you encounter in the lands) successfully wounds or dispatches an enemy, it is your companion who benefits, not you! It’s a good idea to visit the Grey Eagle Inn, which is near the Southlands Marina as you first enter the forest. Even if you don’t want Timothy’s company (if you don’t, do not click on the yellow-haired fellow sitting at the left end of the bar), you should see Philip, who can be found inside the right-hand door inside the tavern. After you chat with Philip, he’ll give you a Magnet Stone (a compass, basically), which can be very useful in your adventures.
Southlands

Tucked away in the middle of the forest is Buck's Skins. You can find some useful odds and ends in here. Of course, you'll have to pay for them, and Buck usually doesn't buy things back (as you might have guessed, given his limited inventory). Again, you'll encounter trouble with some giant Lizards, and some Orcs, in the Southlands. This infestation of Orcs is quite heavy, and unexpected in the "neutral" Southlands. You'll know you're getting close to Roland's manor when the infestation of Orcs is particularly dense. Rest up and save your game before entering Roland's Manor. You won't be able to leave the Southlands before seeing Roland, simply because the price of the ship ride home is too high. Visiting Roland is the only way to get enough money for the trip home. Also, this is your only visit to the Southlands through the game, so if there was something in Buck's that you really want to pick up, get it before you buy passage. If you don't buy the bow in Buck's, it will be awhile before another opportunity arises to get one.

1. Southlands Marina. Though allies of Gladstone, the Southlands Marina won't recognize Richard's Royal Writ as payment for passage. Besides, Lynn at the Gladstone Marina took it. Passage costs 100 silver crowns per passenger. You can get the money by visiting Roland at his manor.

2. Grey Eagle Inn. Timothy, an ally of King Richard's, is found here. If you want him to join you to seek out Roland, click on the yellow-haired person eating at the bar. He'll join you when you exit the tavern. Click on the door on the right to talk to Philip. He'll give you a magnet stone compass, which will show up on the game screen after you exit the tavern.

3. Swarm.

4. Buck's Skins. Bucklers, bows, boots, and salves may be purchased here.

5. Rock.

Roland's Manor is in a sorry state when you find it in the Southlands. Given all that trouble you had with those Orcs in the forest, it's not hard to guess what happened. The Orcs, minions of the Dark Army and Scotia's lackeys, have also been looking for the Ruby of Truth. You can't very well go to the King empty-handed, so you should investigate the manor and see what you can come up with. Or course, the easiest way to do this is to go from room to room. There are Orcs everywhere in the manor, the same ugly variety that you encountered in the forest. When you open a room, expect an Orc's dart to fly out. Even after you've cleared a room, don't mark it as "safe" yet; they'll just open the doors and attack if you try to hide in one of the rooms to rest. There are some minor items of interest in some of the other rooms, but you'll want to find the room where the Orc leader set up his command base. You'll have to get rid of him—by force or guile—in order to find Roland, the fate of the Ruby, and the money to get you home again.
ROLAND'S MANOR

1. To the Southlands.

2. Rock.

3. Fireplace: Clicking three times will turn up a burned scroll. It’s a fragment of Roland’s hastily burned notes. Right-click the scroll over your character’s portrait to read it.

4. The button here opens a hidden niche at 5.

5. This niche is opened by the button at 4. The niche contains aloe and two oil flasks.

6. Orc Leader. The Orc leader has established his command post here in what used to be Roland’s library. When you burst into the room, you’ll have to explain your business. You can fight, bluff, or leave. Choosing to leave gets you out of the situation without getting hurt. The Orcs kick you out of the room, and you’ll continue wandering around the Manor as if nothing happened. You might want to choose this option if you like Orc-bashing and want to build up your Fighter and Mage skills. You’ll never find Roland or the Ruby this way, though. If you choose to bluff, your chance of success is random, though it can be influenced by your Rogue skill. If the bluff fails, then you’ll have to fight the Orc leader and his minions. (Of course, that’s what you’ve been doing all along. But the Orc leader is tougher than the other Orcs.) If the bluff succeeds, then the Orc leader leaves without a fight. Choosing to fight yields the obvious results. The result is the same as failing a bluff. You’ll fight the Orc leader and two of his goonies.

7. Touching this wall opens a passageway to Roland’s hiding place.

8. Roland’s hiding place. With his dying breath Roland will tell you the fate of the Ruby of Truth. The Dark Army has taken it and was last seen heading for the Swamps. Roland leaves you the key to his chest, which contains his last few treasures. The chest contains a magnet stone compass (if you haven’t already picked it up at the Grey Eagle Inn in the Southlands), a saber, and a hoard of silver crowns.
After you return to Gladstone Keep and watch Scotia confront King Richard and Dawn, you learn that you need to visit the Draracle, an Ancient oracle with second sight, and seek his wisdom to help save the King. The Draracle doesn’t entertain just any petitioners. He hides himself deep in his mysterious, danger-ridden lair. Your objective is to hack your way through these monster-packed halls and make it to the cave of the Draracle. You must also recover one of the Draracle’s treasures, hidden somewhere within his caves. Once you reach the room of the Dragon Walls, you are faced with two choices. In your journeys prior to reaching this area, you should have picked up an Emerald (dropped by one of the Ratmen you killed) and a Sapphire (found in one of those chests on the second level of the caves). When you come to this wall, you must make the choice between which route you’ll take the Draracle’s Lair.
DRARACLE CAVES, LEVEL 1

1. To the Northlands.

2. Lever toggles the passageway at 4 open/shut.

3. Lantern. If you already picked one up in the Thugs Cave, the lantern won’t be here.

4. Becomes a passageway when the lever at 2 is moved.

5. These buttons control the movement of the pits to the northeast. To open a path, first press the blue (east wall) button, then green (south wall), then red (west wall).

6. Pit. This pit is closed when the three buttons at 5 are depressed, but once you pass through the corridor near 9, this pit reopens. The first time you go to Level 2, you will need to fall through this pit.

7. Pressure Plate, while depressed, opens the door at 8.

8. Door, opened by the depressed pressure plate at 7.

9. Lock picks, ginseng, and oil flask.

10. Pressure plate triggers darts shot from 11. Every time weight is taken off the plate, this trap resets, so place some item on the ground here before you step off the plate.

11. Shoots darts westward when triggered by the pressure plate at 10.

12. One of the Ratmen in this area has the Emerald Eye for use on the Dragon Wall (at Draracle Caves, Level 2, Reference 9). To get the Emerald Eye, you will have to kill the Ratman carrying it.

13. Crumbly wall to the south. To break open a passageway, use a sledge (from Draracle Caves, Level 2, Reference 1).
DRARACLE CAVES, LEVEL 1

14. Oil flask, two ginseng.

15. Secret button opens a passageway at 16.

16. Wall becomes a passageway by secret button at 15.

17. Pit. This is the only way to progress to the main section of the Draracle Caves, Level 2.

18. Trapdoor entrance from Draracle Caves, Level 2 (only accessible after dropping to Level 2 from pit at 17).

19. After you visit the Draracle, this is the stairway from Draracle Caves, Level 2.

20. After you visit the Draracle, move the lever on the north wall to open wall at 21.

21. Wall becomes a passageway by moving lever at 20.
1. Sledge. You will need this to knock down the crumbling walls throughout the Draracle Caves.

2. You land here after falling through the pit at Draracle Caves, Level 1, Reference 6. The secret button on the north wall opens a passageway to the north, leading to the trapdoor to the Draracle Caves, Level 1.

3. Secret button opens a passageway to the sough, leading to the Pod Room.

4. Pod Room. If you cut open the pod at the right, Lora, a pilgrim from Grisbl, will be freed. In thanks for saving her, she will join you in your search for the Draracle.

5. Landing from pit at Draracle Caves, Level 1, Reference 17.

6. Spin square. When you step into this square, you'll spin around. Use your magnet stone compass and the Magic Atlas to keep track of where you are.
Draracle Caves, Level 2

7. Chest (opened by picking or bashing) containing two stars, oil flask (though, if you bashed the chest open, this will be destroyed), and a Sapphire Eye for use on the Dragon Wall at 9.

8. This button opens the door west of 9.

9. Dragon Room. Place the Emerald Eye (carried by one of the Ratmen, Draracle Caves, Level 1, Reference 12) in the east dragon’s eye to open a passageway to the east. To open a passageway to the north, place the Sapphire Eye (found in the chest at 7) in the north dragon’s eye. If you choose to use the Sapphire Eye, the Emerald Route, taken by following the corridor at the east dragon wall, will be sealed off. If you choose the Emerald Eye, the Sapphire Route will be sealed off. You may choose either of the two paths. They both lead to the same destination, but the route they take there is different.

Emerald Route

If, at the Dragon Room, you place the emerald in the east dragon’s eye first, then you should follow the Emerald Route to the Draracle’s Lair. This path will lead you to the resting place of the Jeweled Dagger, a powerful weapon that you can use until it's time to return it to the Draracle in exchange for his wisdom.

10. Rock.

11. Leather jerkin.

12. Spin square.

13. Chest containing 10 silver crowns, salve, and a Treant stick.

14. Pit trap button. When you encounter the pit to the west of this button, throw a rock (or other item you don’t need) towards the east. This will hit the button at 14 and move the pit to 14. This will allow you to get to the stairs at 16.

15. Pouch with silver crowns, and the dagger “Stiletto.”
16. To Draracle Caves, Level 3.

17. "Dagger In...Dagger Out." There is a niche on the east wall with a note ("dagger in...dagger out") and a button on the north wall. Take the note out of the niche. Put a dagger in the niche (the niche will disappear) and then click the button on the north wall. A lever will appear where the niche was. Pull this lever (the lever will disappear), and then click on the button on the north wall again. This time a lock will appear. Use the lock picks to pick this lock (the lock will disappear), then press the north wall button again. A niche will appear. Place something you don’t need (like that “Dagger” note) in the niche. The niche will disappear. Press the button on the north wall a final time, and a passageway to the west will open.

18. Chest containing a helm, Freeze scroll, and a Jeweled Dagger (a suitable gift for the Draracle at Draracle Caves Emerald Route, Level 3, Reference 20).

19. The wall to the south becomes an illusionary wall after you move into the area at 20.

20. Spin square.

21. Secret switch opens a niche on the west wall. Two ginseng are in the niche.

22. When pulled, this lever activates a fireball trap.

23. This button (concealed as a stone) opens a passageway to the south. Once you pass through, the passageway will close behind you again.

24. The star “Shining.”

25. This button opens a passageway to the north.

26. From the Draracle Caves, Level 3 (used after seeing the Draracle).

27. To the Draracle Caves, Level 1 (used after seeing the Draracle).
Sapphire Route

If, at the Dragon Room, you place the sapphire in the north dragon’s eye first, then you should follow the Sapphire Route to the Draracle’s Lair. This is the easier of the two routes to the Draracle, although the Silver Goblet you find along the way is by no means a lesser artifact. This shining chalice is able to restore your party to full health with only a small amount of your magic lost. Just click the goblet over your character portrait to see the amazing results! Sadly, this item must be given up to the Draracle once you find him in his lair. Wisdom does, after all, have its price.
DKAKACLE
CAVES, LEVEL 2

10. Rock.

11. Leather jerkin.

12. Spin square.

13. Chest containing ten silver crowns, salve, and a Treant stick.

14. Secret Passage.

15. To the Draracle Caves, Level 3.

16. Chest containing aloe, the mace “Bouncer,” a Silver Goblet (a suitable gift for the Draracle at Draracle Caves Sapphire Route, Level 3, Reference 24), and a Freeze scroll.

17. Pressing the button triggers a fireball trap. There’s also a rock here to throw at the button at 18.

18. Pit trap. Throw something (like that rock at 17) west so that it hits the button at 18. This will close that pit so that you can get the Worn Key in the niche on the north wall. This key opens the lock in the Draracle Caves, Level 3, Reference 2.

19. From the Draracle Caves, Level 3 (used after seeing the Draracle).

20. To the Draracle Caves, Level 1 (used after seeing the Draracle).
Emerald Route

1. From Draracle Caves, Level 2.

2. Rock.

3. Secret button on the west wall opens the niche to the north, which contains aloe and the dagger "Razor."

4. Iron Key (opens the chest at 7 or 15).

5. Empty flask.

6. Illusionary pit.

7. Chest (opened by Iron Key from 4) containing silver crowns, the rapier "Dicer," scale mail, and an oil flask.

8. Opens the passageway at 9.

9. Opened by the button at 8.

10. Secret passage.
11. Axe.

12. The saber "Cutter."

13. Spin square.

14. Red Lock, opened by the Red Key found in the chest at 15, which opens a passageway at 16.

15. This chest is opened by the Iron Key found at 4 if you didn't use it at 7. If you did, then you must smash or pick this chest open. It contains the Red Key (which opens the Red Lock at 14), aloe, boots, and an oil flask.

17. Weight on this pressure plate closes the niche to the west. If you place a dagger in the niche to the west it will become the dagger "Backbiter."

18. To Draracle Caves, Level 4.

19. From Draracle Caves, Level 4 (not accessible from the main area of Level three).

20. The Draracle's Lair. When you meet the Draracle, click in the archway and place either the Silver Goblet (from Draracle Caves, Level 2, Sapphire Route, Reference 16) or the Jeweled Dagger (from Draracle Caves, Level 2, Emerald Route, Reference 17) on the altar. When the gift is accepted, the Draracle will tell you how to make the Elixir.

21. To the Draracle Caves, Level 2 (after seeing the Draracle).
Sapphire Route

1. To Draracle Caves, Level 2.

2. Lock, opened by the Worn Key from Draracle Caves, Level 2, Sapphire Route, Reference 18. Opens passageway to the east. Once you step through the passageway, it will close behind you.

3. Pouch with three silver crowns.

4. Dagger.

5. Spin square.

6. Secret button on the north wall opens the niche to the east. The niche contains a Freeze scroll.

7. Illusionary pit.
Draracle Caves, Level 3

8. Empty flask.

9. Chest (opened by the Iron Key at 11) containing two oil flasks, the rapier "Ripper," scale mail.

10. The star "Shining."

11. Iron Key, which opens the chest at 19 or the chest at 9.

13. Passageway opened by button at 12.

15. Axe.

16. The saber "Cutter."

17. Spin square.

18. Red Lock, opened by the Red Key found in the chest at 19, which opens a passageway at 20.

19. Chest (opened by the Iron Key found at 11) containing Red Key (which opens the Red Lock at 18), aloe, boots, and an oil flask.

21. Weight on this pressure plate closes the niche to the west. If you place a dagger in the niche to the west it will become the dagger "Backbiter."

22. To Draracle Caves, Level 4.

23. From Draracle Caves, Level 4 (not accessible from the main area of Level three).
Draracle Caves, Level 3

24. The Draracle's Lair. When you meet the Draracle, click in the archway and place either the Silver Goblet (from Draracle Caves, Level 2, Sapphire Route, Reference 16) or the Jeweled Dagger (from Draracle Caves, Level 2, Emerald Route, Reference 17) on the altar. When the gift is accepted, the Draracle will tell you how to make the Elixir.

25. To Draracle Caves, Level 2 (after seeing the Draracle).
Regardless whether you took the Emerald or Sapphire Route, your journey will end at Level 4 of the Draracle's Caves. With your offering in hand, you must find the passage leading up into the Draracle's lair in the north east area of this level. Once you enter his chambers, you will be instructed to place your offering (the Jeweled Dagger or the Silver Goblet) on the altar. Click on the archway behind the Draracle, and place your trinket on the altar. Now the Draracle will tell you a riddle showing how to make the elixir to cure King Richard. He will write this riddle on a scroll for you, and send you on your way to complete your quest.
Draracle Caves, Level 4

1. To Draracle Caves, Level 3.

2. Chest (with no key: pick the lock or bash the chest open) containing a crossbow and 10 silver crowns.

3. Triggers fireball trap.

4. Loose stone on the west wall opens a passageway when moved.

5. Triggers fireballs to be shot from 6.

6. Dragon on west wall shoots fireballs when triggered by 5. Chest (with no key: pick the lock or bash the chest open) containing salve and a Bezel ring.

7. Crumbly wall, which can be opened when struck by the sledge (see Draracie Caves, Level 2, Reference 1). The wall can be smashed from either the north or south sides.

8. When the button is depressed, this activates the pressure plate at 9. Anytime you stop on or off of 9, a fireball shoots at you from the north. You can move quickly to sidestep this trap, but it's better just to avoid it entirely.

9. Pressure plate activated by the button at 8.

10. Rock.

11. Crumbly wall to the north. A passageway is opened when the wall is struck by a sledge.

12. Pressure plate. When weighted, a fireball is shot at you from the west. Stand in the passageway just to the south, throw a rock or other item to weigh the plate down. Wait for the fireball to pass before you walk onto the pressure plate.

13. Triggers fireball from the east. Place weight on it, as in 12.

14. Triggers fireball from the south. Place weight on it, as in 12.
15. Secret button at the west opens a niche, which contains 24 silver crowns and items from the "dagger in...dagger out" niche if the Emerald Route was taken. (See Draracle Caves, Emerald Route, Level 2, Reference 17.)

16. To Draracle Caves, Level 3. You must go up these stairs to meet the Draracle on Level 3. When you meet the Draracle, click in the archway and place either the Silver Goblet (Draracle Caves, Level 2, Sapphire Route, Reference 16) or the Jeweled Dagger (Draracle Caves, Level 2, Emerald Route, Reference 17) on the altar. When the gift is accepted, the Draracle will give you a Riddle scroll with clues as to the nature of the four ingredients of the Elixir. If you rescued Lora from the Pod Room, she will leave your party at this time too services for the Draracle for her village.
O opinwood lies on the other side of Lake Dread, and is on the way to the Gorkha Swamp. You can also get to the Urbish Mines from here, but we recommend you don’t enter the mines yet! Opinwood is the home of some very nasty Pentrogs, ram-like beasts that pack a nasty punch. They also have deadly crossbows that they use to strike at you from long distances. The level IV spark spell is particularly effective against the Pentrogs, but a flurry of sword blows can work as well. Beware the ferocious strength of these creatures, for it is said that they can kill a warrior with a single blow! This forest is also home to groups of marauding orcs, who travel through Opinwood on their way to the foul castle Cimmeria.

A number of chests are scattered throughout Opinwood, hiding many valuable treasures. Of particular interest is the Green Skull, which can be especially useful against the Larkhon in the upper levels of the Urbish Mining Company. Before you attempt the mines, you’ll first want to make it to the Gorkha Swamp and retrieve the Ruby of Truth. A green skull can be extremely helpful against the fearful Larkhon, so try and have one before you attempt the mines. You can find a green skull in one of the chests in Upper Opinwood if you don’t find one here.

1. Lake Dread.

2. Orcs near the drop off point carry the mace “Puma.”

3. Hollow, which may contain a variety of items.

4. Stump, which may contain a variety of items.

5. Nest, which may contain a variety of items.

7. Rock.

8. The star “Shining.”

10. The longsword “Flayer.”

11. Stump which may contain a Green Skull. Green skulls can be used effectively against the horrific Larkhon guarding the entrance to the Urbish Mines.

12. Beggar. When you come across this poor traveler, you have the options to help him, leave, or attack. Choosing to attack has the obvious results. Don’t worry: he really is an old, helpless man and he can’t fight back. If you choose to leave, he won’t come after you and beat you up for your money. If you choose to help the traveler, you will only part with 5 silver crowns. He may be able to help you with one of the riddles, if you click the Riddle Scroll on him after you’ve helped him out. (The answer to one of the Riddles will be written on the scroll.) Later, if you meet him in the Bruno’s lodge in the City of Yvel, he will give you the Whisper Cloak in thanks.
13. Chest containing "Kane" leather jerkin and a Lightning scroll.

14. Stump which may contain a Bezel Ring.

15. Droek's wagon. Droek knows where Dawn is, but he won't let you near her until you have the Ruby of Truth (which can be found in the Gorkha Swamp).

16. To the Swamp.

17. To the Urbish Mines.
The Swamp has long been known as the home of the Gorkha, a peaceful tribe of amphibious folk who can be quite helpful. They are protective of their home territory, and can be a nightmare to fight if threatened. It's best if you stay on their good side, because they can be quite a bit of help in your quest. Remember, if you steal from them, or attack one of their kind, even by accident, the entire tribe will wage war on you. Throughout the swamp you'll find sinkholes (marked accordingly on your map). DO NOT WALK OVER THE SINKHOLES. You'll sink and die if you do. To get past them, cast the level 1 Freeze spell. The atmosphere will change color a bit, indicating that the "swamp" is frozen, and thus all sinkholes are frozen solid, allowing you to walk over them safely. Once you get some empty vials, use one to collect swamp water from one of these sinkholes. This water is one of the ingredients needed to make the elixir to heal King Richard.
GORKHA SWAMP

Upon entering the swamp, you will initially want to find the Gorkha Chieftain, and try to get the Ruby of Truth from him. If you make a deal with the Gorkha Chieftain, then you will have to hunt down and destroy their ancient enemies, the Hurzels, who have stolen the Gorkha's prized ceremonial mask. You'll find this mask being carried by one of the Hurzels in the central area of the swamp. You won't be able to find the mask if you choose to war against the Gorkha. If you handle things diplomatically, the Gorkha will not wage war against you, and will even make you a hero of their tribe. You'll find it to your advantage to deal with some of the Gorkha merchants, especially if you've been made a hero. There's also a witch doctor in the swamp who can help you with the Draracle's riddle.

1. To Opinwood.

2. Swamp-water sinkhole. Cast the Freeze spell in order to cross the sinkholes safely. If you don't freeze the sinkholes, your party will sink and drown.

3. Chest containing the axe "Slitter," a Duble Ring, and a salve.

4. The staff "Beater."

5. Gorkha guard at regular post. Remember, if you kill any of the Gorkha in the swamp, even by accident, the entire Gorkha race will wage war on you!

6. Chest containing the dagger "Assassin" and an oil flask.

7. Gorkha Guard. This fellow will insist that you remove all of your weapons before you are granted audience with the chief. To do this, move your weapons into your inventory, leaving your weapon hand(s) empty. Once you have done this, the guard will retreat, allowing you to pass.
8. Gorkha Chieftain. The Ruby of Truth is in the Chieftain's possession. The Gorkha have taken it from the band of Orcs crossing the Swamp. He will ask to trade for it, and you must pick an item and click it on the Chieftain to give it to him.

The Chieftain will refuse your initial offer, because he is no fool. He knows you want the Ruby, and is willing to trade it for their sacred Ceremonial Mask, which has been stolen by one of the Hurzels in the Swamp. You have the options of stealing the Ruby, attacking, or accepting the quest. If you have a high Rogue skill, your chances of sneaking the Ruby out are greater. If you aren't so slick, however, the Gorkha will wage war against you. (Remember what they did to those Orcs!)

Choosing to attack will have the obvious results. You will have to fight the Gorkha in addition to the rest of the Swamp denizens. You can get the Ruby by killing the Chieftain.

If you accept the quest, you have to hunt down the tree-like Hurzels and kill them. One will be carrying the Ceremonial Mask. Return this to the Chieftain, and you will be named Heroes of the Swamp. You will also be given the Ruby of Truth and the trident "Mantis." As Heroes of the Swamp, you will be entitled to a 50% discount on all items and services in the Swamp.

9. The Hurzel with the Ceremonial mask will be found in this area. The mask has no special properties other than it's importance to the Gorkha.

10. Dwarvish buckler.

11. Stone Idol: Ra'Tol the Fortunate. Place an item in her mouth, click the nose, and the item will be replaced by a purse of 60 silver crowns. BE CAREFUL! The idol is placed right over a sinkhole! Cast a Freeze spell before attempting this profitable transaction.
Gorkha Swamp

12. Glint mail.

13. Bronze horseshoe (a worthless item).

14. Stone Idol: Ba'Del the Healer. Place an item in his mouth, click the nose, and Ba'Del will heal the party and restore all magic. Your item will be kept by Ba'Del as payment. BE CAREFUL! The idol is placed right over a sinkhole! Cast a Freeze spell before attempting to summon the restorative powers of Ba'Del.

15. The bow “Scout.”

16. Pouch with four silver crowns.

17. Gorkha Blacksmith. A variety of weapons are available here. He will also buy weapons from you. If you are at war with the Gorkha (as a result of bad manners, per 8), the patriotic blacksmith will not deal with you.

18. Witch Doctor. The Witch doctor specializes in solving riddles. If you click the Riddle Scroll on him, he will solve one of the four Draracle riddles for 100 silver crowns. (The answer will be written on the scroll.) Also, the Witch doctor will sell you Fireball wands at 300 silver crowns each.

19. Gorkha Fletcher. A variety of bows are available here. He will also buy weapons from you. If you are at war with the Gorkha (as a result of bad manners, per 8), the patriotic fletcher will not deal with you.

20. To Upper Opinwood.
Hopefully, you’ll visit Upper Opinwood before attempting to explore the Mines. The treasure chests here are formed like tree trunks, and are much the same as regular trunks, with the exception of their contents. There are some particularly valuable goodies here that you’ll want to take into the Mines with you. The most important thing here is the Green Skull, which is the best way to get past the Larkhon guarding the Mines.

Also, you will find the crossbow “Valkyrie,” which is one of the most potent weapons in the lands. Once you have this fireball flinging crossbow in your possession, it’s best to hold on to it until the bitter end. You’ll find Scotia here as well, blocking your way into the Yvel Woods. After trying to scare you off, she’ll erect a magical barrier that can only be dispelled by Vaelan’s Cube. You should be able to find the cube with Paulson, after solving the Urbish Mines, or with Dawn back in Opinwood. Also in Upper Opinwood are hives full of hornet honey. This is one of the vital ingredients in the Elixir to heal King Richard.

4. Hollow.

5. Hollow.

6. Hollow, rock.

7. Birds nest.

8. Hornet's nest, from which you can get Hornet's Honey, a necessary ingredient for Richard's Elixir. A Swarm can also be found here.

10. Chest containing a jade necklace, 28 silver crowns, and a Bezel cup.

11. Chest containing an ebony staff, 10 silver crowns, an Emerald Blade, and a Green Skull.

12. Chest containing the crossbow "Valkyrie." Dwarvish chain mail, and 23 silver crowns. A moulder near here may drop a worn key, which may open one of the chests in the woods. (The key is so old and worn that it might not work.)

13. Empty chest.

14. Scotia's Barrier. Use a Vaelan's Cube to dispel the barrier.

15. Hornet's nest, from which you can get Hornet's Honey, a necessary ingredient for Richard's Elixir. A Swarm can also be found here.

17. Entrance to the Urbish Mines.

18. Yvel Cave, leading to the Yvel Woods.

19. The dagger "Assassin."
The Urbish Mines are a creepy place, indeed. This is where the evil sorceress Scotia uncovered the Nether Mask. The locals say that the mines are infested with monsters and the ghosts of long dead prospectors. This is said to be the reason for the mines premature closing years ago. But, you don’t care. You’ve got a mission to accomplish. You’ll need to find Paulson, and get his Pyramid Key. He may also have a Vaelan’s Cube with him. The Cube is needed to get past the barrier in Upper Opinwood, so if Paulson doesn’t have one, perhaps Dawn will. The Pyramid Key is one of four needed to free King Richard from the Crystal Casket. The Urbish Mines is a complex, twisted place. You’ll have to go up and down levels several times before you’re able to get to Paulson. Keep track of where you are and how the teleporters work. Paulson is located in the deepest level of the mines.

In sum, you must do the following: Visit Dwight on the first level and make sure you get a pick from him. You can also get a pick on Level 3, but it is surrounded by a nest of deadly avian worms, and difficult to retrieve. Kill the rock beasts on Level 4 to get the Bloodstone, another ingredient for the Elixir. Then you will need to find the gear and the staircase. Go down the cleared stairs, and get the Shiny Key. Once you have the Shiny key and the Rusty key (hidden in Orin’s remains on Level 4), make your way back to Level 4 and unlock the hidden door to the south. Beyond this door you will find Paulson. Make certain that you get his Pyramid Key and his Vaelan’s Cube (if he has one) before leaving the mines.
1. To Upper Opinwood.

2. To Opinwood.

3. The Larkhon. When you open this door for the first time, a Larkhon is released. The Larkhon is a very tough creature that can be killed with the Green Skulls (very easy) or with thrown weapons (very hard). To use the Green Skulls against the Larkhon, right click the skull over the character's portrait. This is the easier way to kill it. If you want to use thrown weapons, you'll have to stay quick on your toes and be very patient; the Larkhon can withstand many hits from thrown weapons. You can also outmaneuver the Larkhon if you leave by one of the forest exits, circle around through the Swamp, and enter through the other forest opening.

10. Lock picks.

11. Helm.

12. Button on the east wall, when clicked, will reveal a passageway to the east.

13. File cabinet, which may contain a variety of useful items.

14. The clerk, Dwight, is here. Make sure you look beneath his desk and get the Great Helm and the mining pick (which will be very useful later on).

15. This lock must be picked.

16. Old Machine. This old pump is missing a gear and some coal for fuel. When the gear (found at Urbish Mines, Level 4, Reference 23) and the coal (found at Urbish Mines, Level 3, Reference 22) are found and clicked on the machine, pull the lever. When the pump is functioning again, the passage at Urbish Mines, Level 2, Reference 43 will be drained of water, allowing you to pass.

17. Pouch with two silver crowns.

18. File cabinet, which contains a salve.

19. Security access doors. One must be closed before the other can be opened.

10. Teleporter to 13.

11. Teleporter to Urbish Mining Company, Reference 5.

14. Keyhole opens door to the east. The key is is Paulson’s possession.

15. Keyhole opens door at 17 only if keyhole at 16 is also unlocked. Use the “Shiney” Key from Urbish Mines, Level 3, Reference 2 accessible by stairs from the area accessed from Urbish Mines, Level 2, Reference 43.

16. Keyhole opens door at 17 only if keyhole at 15 is also unlocked. Use Rusty Key from 19.

17. Door opened if locks at 15 and 16 are unlocked.

18. Paulson. This noble from King Richard’s court joins you. Make sure you pick up his Pyramid Key for Richard’s Crystal Casket. As you leave the area, Paulson directs you to his cache (at 22).

19. Orin’s ghost. After the warning to stay away, you can rummage through his bones for the Rusty Key that will open the lock at 16.

20. Rock slide caused by stepping on 2.

21. Fireball trap (which is always firing) and spin square.

22. Paulson’s cache. Vaelan’s Cube (but only if you have not found the great maul “Hammerhead.” Otherwise Dawn will have it in Opinwood, Reference 15), Dwarvish boots, chain mail, kite shield, the axe “Vixen,” Mine Key 4 (which opens 14), a great helm, two oil flasks, and a Bezel cup.
23. Water pump note and gear for the machine in the Urbish Mining Company.

24. Teleporter to 3.

26. A Rockling in this area will drop a Bloodstone (a necessary ingredient for Richard's Elixir) if you kill it.
If you haven't returned to Opinwood and seen Dawn in Droek’s wagon, now is the time to do it. You should also have completed your exploration of the woods, the swamp, and the Urbish mines at this point. Once in Yvel Woods, you should make your way north to Vulture's Chasm. Although there is no way to cross this ravine, you will find another Valean's Cube here after killing one of the huge orcs guarding the chasm. Beware the ferocious strength of the great orcs that roam Yvel Woods, as they are far more formidable than the orcs of Opinwood. Now make your way to the White Tower, and locate the Crucible of Faith. Once you have the Crucible, you’ll have to use up your Valean’s cube to dispel another one of Scotia’s barriers to get to the City of Yvel. When you dispel this barrier, you can get into Yvel and get the final ingredient for the Elixir, Earth Powder, from Sadie. Return to the White Tower and mix the Elixir to heal King Richard. After doing so, you’ll want to return to the city, meet Geron, and then find Dawn. You’ll run into her just as you’re returning to Opinwood. She'll ask for her key, but don't give it to her: it's really Scotia! You may have to fight her (in her ugly lizard form) before returning to the city to find Geron again.

1. The barrier to Yvel City. Use Vaelan's Cube here. It is advisable to complete the White Tower first, using the cube on the wraiths on the third level, since using it on the barrier will destroy the cube. A cube can be found in the possession of one of the great orcs guarding Vulture's Chasm at 3.

2. White Tower.

3. In this area, a great orc can be found who has a Vaelan's Cube. He will drop it when killed.

4. Vulture's Chasm. There is no way to cross over to Castle Cimmeria once the Dark Army severs the bridge (and they always do).

5. Chest containing the Shield of Stealth and the arbalest "Equalizer" (a cursed weapon).

6. To the City of Yvel.

7. To Upper Opinwood.

8. Stump.

9. Scotia (disguised as Dawn) will try to get Dawn's Key here after you have been sent by Geron (who now resides in Yvel City) to find her. You will have to choose between three options here. If you choose to give her the key, she will take it and leave. (You will find the key again in Castle Cimmeria, Level 3, Reference 16). If you argue, she will become angry with you and you will end up with a fight on your hands. When she receives more than 50% damage, she will change form and fly away. Fighting her will yield the same results as arguing.
The White Tower is home to the warrior maiden, Jana, and her Amazons. You will need to locate the thief Lyle and get the Amber Ring from him to open the passage into Jana's secret chamber. Once you have fought your way past these formidable foes, use your Valean's Cube to battle the undead spirits that haunt the highest reaches of the tower. On Level 3, you will find the keys needed to enter the sub-level of the tower, and find the Crucible of Faith. Use it to plunder the treasure found beyond the doors of faith back on Level 3. Once you have succeeded in your task, it's time to head to Yvel City. After gathering all four ingredients for the Elixir, return to the tower. Replace the Crucible upon the Altar DeBlanca (it's pretty obvious how this works), and use the healed altar to mix the King's Elixir. Once you have the Elixir, it's time to return to Yvel City yet again.
WHITE TOWER, LEVEL 1

1. The rapier 'Talon.'

2. A warrior in this room will drop a Brown Mystic Key, which opens the door near 5.

3. The throwing star "Vega.'

4. Empty chest.

5. Grey Mystic Key.

7. A warrior in this room will drop a Grey Mystic Key for use on the lock at 16.

8. Prisoner Lyle. You have to choose between three options here. If you help him, he will give you some silver crowns in return for his freedom. If you attack him, you will find a pouch full of silver crowns. If you decide to leave him, he will offer you an Amber Ring, and you are then faced with three more options. If you help him a second time he will give you the Amber Ring. For whatever reason, if you do not recover the Amber Ring from Lyle, you can find it in the Niche on the west wall, which is revealed by pressing the button on the north wall.

9. The Amazon Queen Jana. Defeating Jana in combat may earn you the great sword "Trouble." There is also a niche containing a Brown-Grey Mystic Key for the lock in the White Tower, Level 3, Reference 14. When the Mystic Key is picked up, the wall to the west will open to reveal a passageway.

10. Chest containing Dwarvish great helm and a Jade Necklace.

12. Requires Ivory Key (from White Tower, Level 3, Reference 13) to unlock. Leads to White Tower sub-level.

13. Niche containing the note "Ring for Admittance." Place the Amber Ring (found at 8) in the niche to open a passageway to the left, allowing access to Jana's room.

18. Faith Door: This door cannot be opened unless you have the Crucible of Faith in your inventory.

19. When this button is pushed, the wall at 12 opens.

20. Pickable lock.

21. Bow "Gemini." Get this before weighing down the pressure plates at 17, otherwise you won't be able to get it.

22. Secret passageway.

23. Stairs up from Level 2. A ghost here warns you of the perils of the White Tower.
1. There are four niches and four items that “roam” around this area. Turn to face a niche, and as an item moves past on the floor, pick up the item and place it in the niche (1 item per niche). When each niche is filled, all of them will close. This will deactivate the invisible teleporter at 6.

2. The items placed in the niches at 1 will appear in this niche after the puzzle at 1 is completed.

3. This Mystic lock can be opened with the Blue Mystic Key from White Tower, Level 3, Reference 5.

4. This secret button opens the wall and allows access to the teleporter at 5.

5. This teleporter returns you to the stairway at 7.

6. The invisible teleporter here will transport you near 4.

7. This stairway leads up to White Tower Level 1.

8. The old woman here gives you the Crucible of Faith.
At Yvel, you’ll want to visit Sadie’s shop after you get the last part of the riddle scroll deciphered. If she can read it, she’ll give you the last ingredient for the Elixir. After you get this, return to the White Tower in Yvel Woods. When you’ve made the Elixir, meet Geron inside the Council Hall. He’ll tell you to find Dawn, whom you can find outside in Yvel Woods. When you return to Geron again, he’ll tell you the city is under attack. Fight in the city until you hear Orc’s battle horns sounding, “retreat.” Then go to Bruno’s Lodge and go through the back door (which is now open). Beat the Great Orcs camped out there, and enter the Catwalk Caverns through the secret passage beyond.
1. Sadie: Sadie is an herbalist, and the aunt of Lora, the girl you may have rescued from the Draracle caves. She has earth powder, but will only give it to you after you have solved the Mother Earth riddle on your riddle scroll. If you helped Lora, the powder is free. If not, it will cost you 500 silver crowns. Sadie will also heal your party for a 50 silver crown fee, or sell you Salve for 20 silver crowns.

2. Dwarvish plate mail.

3. The boards on this door are loose. Click on them a few times and you’ll be able to pry them off.

4. Hand of Fate scroll and speckled key (opens door at 20).

5. Ace of Dominion.

6. Torn shirt.

7. Victor’s Shop: When you first enter his new shop, Victor mistakes you for someone else. He has some nice items for sale, including the great sword “Justice.” Victor will also buy your surplus items at cut rate prices.

22. The lock is opened with the Jade key from 21.

23. Ace of Infinity.

24. Oil flask.

25. Council of Yvel: Geron is here. If you haven’t made the Elixir yet, show him the riddle scroll the first time you come here. He will send you to the White Tower to make after making sure you have all the ingredients. After you have made the Elixir, Geron will inform you to go and get Dawn. After you meet Dawn/Scotia in the Yvel woods, Geron will inform that the Yvel militia has fallen and then send you out to fight the minions of the Dark Army. After the enemy sounds their retreat (you will need to roam the city and conquer the invaders), the door to the council chambers will be locked. A note from Geron tells of a secret route into castle Cimmeria through Bruno’s lodge.

26. Bruno’s Lodge: The old beggar from Opinwood is here (if you didn’t kill him) and has a whisper cloak for you if you aided him earlier. After the battle for Yvel, the door to the Catwalk Caverns will appear in the rear of the tavern. Go through these caverns to get to Castle Cimmeria.

27. This secret panel opens to reveal the entrance to the Catwalk Caverns.

28. To Yvel Woods.
You'll need to defeat the Dark Commander Frendor to get Geron's Key, the black Statuette, and the Dark Gauntlet. Use these artifacts to make your way through this sinister maze. The activate-and-replicate puzzle in the north does not need to be completed, but if you succeed in solving it, the great sword "Justice" and the Valkyrie crossbow are excellent choices for mystical duplication. The dangerous electrical elementals here in Catwalk can only be defeated with powerful lightning magic, which overloads them. Beware these creatures, for they can sap your party of their magic! If all else fails, use the Wand of Lightning that you found in the White Tower Level 3. Collect the two keys needed to open the locked door to the east of the entrance. Beyond this door you will meet the Xeobs and the Knowles, other-dimensional beings eternally at war with one another. You will be requested to help defeat one of the two races. The outcome of your quest will be the same no matter which of the two races you pick, but you might note that the Knowles are easier to defeat. Both races will reward you for defeating their respective enemy: the Knowles will reward you with an advance in magic skill, whereas the Xeobs will advance your fighting skill. Once you choose an alliance, you'll make it to the Dungeons of Castle Cimmeria.
CATWALK CAVERNS, LEVEL 1

1. Stairway leading to Yvel.

2. An invisible pressure plate here closes the wall section at 73. This can only be triggered by the weight of the party.

3. Secret button on the South wall opens the niche in the West wall. The niche contains one salve.

4. Placing the Dark Commander's statuette on the pedestal on the North wall will open the secret passage at 72.

5. Here you will find the Dark Commander, Frendor, who will attempt to recruit you for the Dark Army. After the encounter, you will be engaged in combat with Frendor and two of his lieutenants. When you defeat the Dark Commander, he will drop a granite statuette and his Gauntlet of Force. You will need to both of these items to complete this level. Frendor also has Geron's Key.

6. Click the Gauntlet of Force (see 5) on the impression in the west wall. This will open the secret wall at 7.

7. This secret wall is opened if the conditions at 6 are met.

2. This teleporter will return you to the Catwalk Caverns, Level 1, Reference 17.

3. This button has been deactivated by Scotia's minions!
Dungeons

Once in the dungeons, you must defeat the enemies of the race that you sided with in Catwalk Caverns. Save your game often here, as the members of both races are tough, and occasional setbacks are almost certain. You must kill each and every remaining member of your chosen enemies. Once you locate the teleporter to the home world of your allies, you have the opportunity to betray and attack them. If you do this, you will get the key to Castle Cimmeria immediately, but you will have forfeited the level bonuses that would have been granted to you by your sponsors. It is best to finish out this minor quest, and reap your rewards before you move on to the stairs leading up into Castle Cimmeria. Your patrons will also give you yet another Valean's Cube, which will be useful in the first level of the castle. Make sure you get Nathaniel's Pyramid Key, and then find the diamond that can be used to free Dawn before ascending into the castle.
Dungeons

1. Chest containing Kite shield "George's," chain mail "Protector."

2. This pressure plate triggers the mouth at 25 to fire deadly ice bolts up the corridor. The plate cannot be weighted down by objects.

3. Copper key, which opens the lock at 23.

4. Button on west wall toggles niche on the east wall that contains a Bezel cup.

5. Button on the north wall toggles the west wall and the niche on the south wall that devours anything you put into it.

Dungeons

30. Pressure plate fires trap at 29.

31. Secret passageway.

32. Unlocks door to the west. Use the key from 19 if you get it, or pick the lock.
Castle Cimmeria is where you will end your quest, heal King Richard, and catch up with Scotia. Once out of the Dungeons, find the Crystal Ball imprisoning Dawn, and use the diamond to free her. Then recover the Cobra figurine on Level 1, the Dragon figurine, also on Level 1, the Unicorn statuette found on Level 2, and the Humanoid figurine, well hidden on Level 3 of Cimmeria. Once you have all four figurines, return to Level 2 of the castle, where you will find the room where King Richard’s tainted crystal casket has been left. Place the figurines so that the beam of light dispels the tainted shroud on the casket, and place the four Pyramid Keys (Dawn’s, Geron’s, Nathaniel’s, and Paulson’s) on the Crystal Casket in their proper locations. This will free King Richard from the protection of the Crystal Casket. Now you must act quickly, and apply the Elixir to Richard’s resting form. Once he awakens, Richard will give you his ring, the Shard of Truth. Merge the Shard of Truth with the Ruby of Truth to create the Whole Truth. Then, armed with the Whole Truth and your instincts, you must hunt down Scotia in the heights of the castle, and defeat her once and for all!
CASTLE CIMMERIA, LEVEL 1

1. Crystal ball, with Dawn trapped inside. Use the diamond found in the dungeon on the crystal ball to free her.

2. Button opens the door to the west.

4. To open this door, the door to the west must be closed and vice versa.

5. This wall is toggled by the switch at 3.

6. These two doors can be opened by throwing items through the doors to hit the switches behind them.

7. Ornamental swords. Click on them to get the great sword 'Doom.'

8. Toggles open/closed the door to the south.

9. Toggles open/closed the door to the south.

10. Secret button activates teleporter at 11.

11. This teleporter, when activated by the secret button at 10, transports you to 21.

12. Stepping here from the east causes a wall to appear 2 squares to the west and 1 square to the east, trapping you inside (see 13 for more information). The switch on the wall to the south opens the door to the north.

13. There are 2 switches here. The switch to the west, when hit twice, causes a pit to open to the south. The switch to the north causes a niche to appear in the wall to the east. This niche contains the Cobra statuette. The pit drops you into the dungeons and is the only escape from this area if you entered from the east and had the walls close behind you. From the dungeon, you can re-enter castle Level 1.

14. This switch stops the iron tooth doors at 16 from moving.

15. Stepping on this area causes the doors at 16 to start moving again.
CASTLE CIMMERIA, LEVEL 1

17. This door can not be opened.

18. This is the entrance to the pit room. Once you open the door, do not flip any of the tongue switches as you move forward down the corridor beyond.

19. This door does not open. Hitting the switch causes monsters to appear. Avoid it.

20. This switch causes monsters to appear. Avoid it.

22. A combination of hitting the switch to the north, then the south, then the north again, then finally the south, causes the pit to disappear.

23. Dropping an item causes the pit here to disappear.

24. Placing an item in this niche causes it to disappear. Hitting the switch to the south causes the niche to reappear with the item transformed into silver coins.

25. This area will not show on your Magic Atlas. You will be teleported to the center of this room after you lose your atlas (don’t worry! You’ll get it back). You must locate the four pressure plates in this chamber and place an item on each of them. You must move slowly because most of the room is trapped with confusing spin squares, and treacherous pits. Place items on the ground to help keep track of your relative location. Once you depress all four plates, you will have access to the three secret corridors along the south wall. The center corridor leads to stairs going up to Castle Cimmeria, Level 2.

26. Press the button on the wall to enter this corridor. Press the south button, then the east button. A niche will open to the west. Take the dragon figurine in the niche and leave the alcove without pressing the buttons again. If you accidentally do, and the corridor is blocked, place an item you don’t need in the niche and press the buttons close the niche and reopen the alcove.
CASTLE CIMMERIA, LEVEL 1

27. Secret passage.

29. Teleporter to center of room at 25.

30. Stairs to dungeon.

31. Pressure plates.

32. Spin squares.

33. Stairs to Level 2.

34. Pit.
1. Stepping here will trigger a fireball trap. The switch on the south wall here opens the door at 2.

2. Door opened by the switch at 1.

3. Switch opens and closes the door at 2.

4. Pressure plate will open a passage to the east. This can’t be weighted down, and the wall closes behind you permanently.

5. Placing an item in the niche here causes the item and the niche to disappear.

6. There is a pickable chest here that contains the staff "Gustavus" and the dagger "Riposte."

7. Switch on the wall has been deactivated; it does nothing when you hit it.
CASTLE CIMMERIA, LEVEL 2

8. Hitting the switch here causes a niche to appear in the wall directly south of you. The niche contains the trident "Plague."

9. This ornate lock is pickable and opens the door to area 10.

10. There is a niche in this room that is empty.

11. There is a pickable chest here that contains Bracers of Defense, the Ace of Infinity, the Ace of Oblivion, and silver crowns.

12. This ornate lock is pickable and opens the door to the south.

13. This switch opens a niche containing the unicorn figurine.

14. There are a set of spikes here that cannot be crossed and can cause damage when crossed.

15. This area has a lock and a switch. The lock requires the Noir key found later on this level. When the lock is unlocked and you hit the tongue switch the door to the south will open.

16. This tongue switch opens the door to the south.

17. This tongue switch opens the door one square to the west and south.

18. This switch causes you to be teleported to 39.

19. Need Adder Key from 26 to open this lock.

20. This pressure plate causes a spiked ball to fly at you from the west.

21. This pressure plate causes a spiked ball to fly at you from the east.

22. This switch will open a passageway two spaces to the west.
CASTLE CIMMERIA, LEVEL 2

23. Chest containing the Westwood stick, aloe, and the great helm "Aegis."

24. There are two doors here. Hitting the switch on one door opens the opposite door.

25. The switch on the west wall opens a passage.

26. To get the item from the niche and walk out of the trap, first push the button at 25, and then throw an item west. Walk west and pick up the item. Then walk north and press the second button on the east wall. Then walk south, get the Adder Key (which opens the lock at 19) from the niche, and place an item on the plate to the west. Then leave the room.

27. When you walk here a spike ball will fly at you from the west.

28. The tongue switch here causes a pit to appear to the immediate west. This pit will disappear when you step on the space east of the switch.

29. When you walk here an ice bolt spell will fly at you from the west.

30. When you walk here a fireball will fly at you from the south.

31. There is a niche in this area that contains the Noir Key.

32. There is a set of spikes here.

33. There are two switches here. The switch on the west wall opens the wall to the east. The switch on the south wall opens a pit beneath you that plunges you into the dungeon level.

34. This ornate lock can only be opened by the key found at 38. Once the wall to the south of 36 is open, a spiked ball will fly from the south when you step here.

35. King Richard lies in here. To free him you must have the four figurines (cobra, dragon, unicorn, and humanoid) and the Elixir.
36. Pressing both of these switches here will open a passageway to the south.

37. Throw an item over the pit to the east to hit the switch on the wall. This will cause a teleporter to appear across the pit to the south. The pit is an illusion. Walk across it to the teleporter to be taken to area 38.

38. Destination of the teleporter at 37. There is a niche ahead that contains the Carrion key. Place a useless item in this niche to close the pit trapping you in this area.

39. Area to which the teleporter at area 18 takes you.

40. Stairs to the third level of the castle.

41. Disappearing wall.
1. Each alcove here has a sign. Leave the requested item in each alcove, and when all four alcoves are full, go to the niche at the south end of the room. Get the Dull Key, which opens the chest at 7. You may recover all your items before leaving.

2. Ornate lock that can be unlocked with Silver Key from 7.

3. Button turns the wall into a door.

4. Ornate lock, opened by gold key from 13.

5. These switches cause the wall to disappear. Replaced by a Toadulus monster.

6. Oily key found here.

7. Chest (opened with the Dull Key) containing Silver Key, salve, and silver crowns.
CASTLE CIMMERIA, LEVEL 3

8. Death Key.

9. Chest here opened by the Death Key, found at 8. Contains the halberd "Death's Hand," Aegis plate mail, and silver crowns.

10. Button opens the wall to the east.

11. Chest is pickable, contains the helm "Talamar," ginseng, and silver crowns.

12. Three switches all make the wall disappear, to reveal a Toadulus monster.

13. Button causes niche to open in the south wall. The niche contains the Gold Key to open the lock at 4.

14. Sum Puzzle. Click the button on the wall to move the wall west one square. Walk west and press the button again to move the wall west again. When you view this section from the Magic Atlas, the expression "1 + 1 = 2" reads across the bottom of the map.

15. This wall disappears when Sum Puzzle is solved. (See 14.)

16. A combination of hitting these buttons causes a niche to open, containing the humanoid figurine, as well as Dawn’s key (if you gave it to Scotia/Dawn in Yvel Woods.)

17. Button opens niche two spaces east on the other side of the pit.

18. Chest here is pickable, containing the arbalest "Eternity," the plate mail "Bastion," and silver crowns.

20. Opened by the switch on the wall.

21. Pit.

22. Dripping acid, which will cause damage if you run into it.
23. Pressure plate permanently closes the hall to the south.

24. Toadulus monster.

26. Spin square.

27. Stepping here causes walls to appear to the north and east. The switches that appear will remove the walls.

28. Stepping here causes a fireball to come from the east.

29. Stepping here causes an ice bolt to come from the south.

30. Scotia! Combine the Ruby of Truth (found in the Swamp) with the Shard of Truth, the ring given to you by King Richard in Castle Cimmeria, Level 2, Reference 35. To do this, click one on top of the other in your inventory. When Scotia appears, click the newly created Whole Truth on a character portrait. When you use the Whole Truth like this, you'll have destroyed the Nether Mask, which you must do in order to defeat Scotia.

If you fail to use the Whole Truth in time, Scotia will begin fighting you, using the Nether Mask to transform into powerful, hideous monsters. The only opportunities to use the Whole Truth to destroy the Nether Mask come when Scotia is in the middle of these transformations. You see a very visible blue glow around Scotia, and that is the time to use the Whole Truth. After you've done so correctly, the Whole Truth will vanish, she will permanently return to her original hag form, and you can defeat her in combat!

Note that after Scotia makes her third and final transformation to the Executioner Beast, she is virtually unbeatable. Use the Whole Truth on her before she reaches this stage!
The Dracoid Ak'Shel, like most of his race, is predisposed toward magic. He will gain control over more magic and recover from magic use more quickly than the other champions. Fighting is more of a struggle for Ak'Shel. It is not that he cannot fight, he just isn't as good at it as the other champions. You should try to have Ak'Shel fight some of the early battles without using his magic advantage. This will increase Health levels. This will be important when in conflict with more powerful monsters. If powerful magics are your wish, guide Ak'Shel through the Lands.

Kieran, the Huline, is potentially the most powerful of all of the champions. His skills must be more carefully developed, however. Hullines are exceptionally quick. Kieran will learn to strike nearly twice as fast as the other champions. Take some time and develop Kieran's skills. He is quite capable if given enough training. If you are looking for a champion that can outwit and outmaneuver his opponents, Kieran's the one.

Michael is a descendant of a warlike Human tribe. He is the mightiest of the champions. If you plan on slicing your way through the Lands, he's your man. Magic is not impossible for Michael, he just learns more slowly than the other champions. If you want Michael to gain experience as a mage, you must have him practice. Use Swarms and the Spark spell to finish his adversaries.

Conrad exemplifies a jack-of-all-trades. This human exhibits a healthy knowledge and ability in all of the ways of the Lands. While not as proficient in any individual discipline as those more skilled in those areas, Conrad can near the apex of all disciplines if he practices. If you are unsure of which champion to choose, pick Conrad.
SUPPORTING CHARACTERS

Timothy is a human tracker from the woodlands in the service of King Richard. He commonly finds reasons to visit taverns and inns. Timothy is an accomplished Knight and has also been known to talk his way out of a fight once in a while. He has never spent much time with his nose in the books. If you want Timothy to join you in the Southland, visit him in the Grey Eagle Inn.

Baccata is a rare creature indeed. Not only is he a Thomgog, but Baccata has cast aside the aggressive nature of his kin and apprenticed himself to Dawn. Baccata has managed to do something most Thomgogs never do—he has become an adequate mage. Though he has not studied use of weapons, Baccata’s nature and physical attributes lend themselves very well to physical combat. Baccata will join you before you are sent to the Draracle’s Lair.

SUPPORTING CHARACTERS

Lora is a peasant girl, sent by her village to serve in the household of the Draracle for a period of one year. The Draracle will then give the people of Grisbi the weather forecasts needed for planting and harvesting the crops. She has learned to find traps and negotiate her way out of trouble. Unfortunately for Lora, the Scavenger that caught her wasn't interested in small talk. If you want Lora to join you, you must free her from the hanging pods in the Draracle's caves.

Paulson is a member of the Royal Council of Gladstone. He was once the royal blacksmith and has since given these duties over to Victor. Paulson has learned some magic from Dawn, but prefers to use a sharp blade to settle his affairs. Paulson has little use for diplomacy. He will choose to join you when you find him in the Urbish Mines.

Amazons are mercenaries who will work for anyone. They attack twice as fast as most other warriors, but they wear little armor and are vulnerable to Freeze spells.

Ethereal apparitions attack with their own arsenal of spells, and they cannot be harmed by most of cold-based spells. Cutting weapons do only half their normal damage when used against apparitions.

When threatened, archer slugs fire poisonous darts. Large blunt weapons are the best to use against these dangerous creatures.

Squirmish avian worms are difficult to hit with most conventional combat weapons. Worm hunters will have much better luck relying on their spellbooks.

All thugs want to be bandits when they grow up. Bandits brandish better weapons, wear better armor, and are better at "thugging," in general, than thugs.

Large wild boars roam the forests of Gladstone. Huntsmen have always favored thrusting weapons against these vicious little beasts.

Boglytes are animated swamp muck. If you cannot avoid these creatures while travelling in the Swamps, have a good mage with you who knows what to do with a Freeze spell.
Beasts in the Lands

Cabal warriors make up the more elite arms of the Dark Army. They're tough, they're excellent swordsmen, and they will not flee. When "killed" the first time, a cabal warrior comes back and gets a second chance at you as an Ethereal warrior.

Cave dwellers are primitive humanoids who lurk in the caves near Gladstone. They move very slowly but pack quite a wallop behind those huge clubs they like to drag around.

The Dark Commander and his lieutenants make up the elite corps of the Dark Army. That fact alone should warn you to keep away from them. They are immune to some types of spells, and they know a little magic of their own. Oh, and they know how to fight, too.

The blades on the Death Disk will rip the weapon out of the hands of all but the strongest warriors. The most effective blows will come from edged weapons. Ranged magical attacks can be helpful, too.

Ethereal warriors are the animated souls of dead cabal warriors—so if you had fun with live cabal warriors, you'll just love these. They're tougher to "kill" the second time around.

The bite of a flying spider is quite painful and is often poisonous. A good Fireball spell—and a good supply of medicinals—is recommended.
Beasts in the Lands

Gimlets are irritating subterranean creatures who have the annoying habit of poking their poisoned daggers at innocent passers-by. They are very difficult to hit, but just one or two good hits is enough to get rid of them.

The Gorkha are excellent warriors, especially when fighting in their native swamps. They are particularly susceptible to impaling damage. Gorkha have a strong resistance to magic attacks.

The giant hornet's sting can pierce even the stoutest armor. Fire is fairly effective against them.

Greater multipedes are the venomous ancestors of modern centipedes. Slashing damage does little to them; they are most susceptible to impact damage.

Hachucks are weapons animated by Dark Army sorcerers as a better alternative to watchdogs. Most magical attacks do nothing to them.

Hurzels can inflict great damage when they swing those limbs of theirs. They have a good resistance to most spells, with the notable exception of electrical types.

When these metal scavengers drool, it's not only gross, but it can also destroy metal weapons and armor. Attack them at a distance if you want to keep that nifty sword of yours.
Knowles know powerful spells. They can protect themselves from most kinds of offensive magic except fire and acid-based spells.

An encounter with a larkhon is a nightmare because it is invulnerable to just about everything except acid. Casting Caustic Fog from the Green Skull is the only known way to kill a larkhon.

Giant lizards have prehensile tongues which can grab weapons and items out of opponents' hands. It is best to use blunt weapons against these beasts.

The best attack on a magic mirror is to smash it with an impact weapon. Spells will work, too, but the magic mirror's favorite trick is to reflect any spells back to the attacker, so be careful.

Manthas like to stun their victims before moving in for a juicy bite. So why risk it? Attack these things from a good distance with some kind of ranged attack, like spells or projectiles.

A minotaur not only has a bad complexion and a pretty ugly family tree, but his singing voice—well, his roaring, actually—can actually inflict damage. Don't even try to make friends with this one.
Molders are hunch-backed rotting corpses immune to cold and acid. Fire-based spells are the best to use on them.

Moribunds are susceptible to fire and cold spells, as well as impaling damage.

Necrosaps are animated masses of energy which drain the life from their victims. They are susceptible to power surges, such as Spark and Lightning spells.

Orcs are monstrous humanoid creatures with little intelligence. Fighting is all they know. Use blunt weapons against their thick hides.

Great Orcs are oversized in-bred cousins of the Orcs. It is nearly useless to pound on their massive frames with blunt weapons.

Pentrogs aren't as tough as they look, but they do have fairly good protection against cold-based spells. Fire is the best way to defend yourself from them.

A ratman's claws may inflict a toxic wound that festers quickly. If you encounter one of these abominations, strike quickly with an edged weapon.
Beasts in the Lands

Rocklings are animated rock formations impervious to slash and impale damage. Rocklings are rather slow but extremely powerful.

Scavengers shoot sticky webs to trap their victims. Their thick, scaly hides make them virtually fireproof, but they abhor the cold. Hacking away at them with edged weapons does little damage to them; large bashing weapons are more effective.

Starks literally breathe fire, so fire-based attacks against them will do nothing. They will also attack with their sharp and sometimes poisoned talons. The Freeze spell will do the most damage to starks.

Thugs frequenting the paths of the Northlands are common street thieves and robbers. They usually arm themselves with clubs and maces.

Trez are particularly susceptible to fire, as well as attacks from thrusting weapons. Bashing weapons do less damage.

Undead wraiths are resistant to most types of magic, though they like to attack with a cold spell of their own. A nick from a wraith’s sword can sometimes do more than physical damage, but can actually drain magic from a person.

Xeobs cast a variety of nasty spells to defend themselves and are resistant to most types of magic attacks.

Heal

The basic Heal spell will usually restore health to an injured person. This spell works on most higher, sentient races. But not even the most powerful mages have been able to raise the dead with Heal—so don't try it.

When Dawn gives you the spell book in Gladstone Keep, Heal is already written on the pages.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heal IV</td>
<td>Will restore to full health all characters in the party and cure all poisoned characters.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Spark

Spark discharges a small electrical shock from the hands of the caster. Basic as it is, Spark is still a very handy spell to know in the more dangerous areas of the Lands.

Spark is a basic spell already known at the beginning of the adventure by any of Richard's champions. To cast it before you have a spell book, click on the spell button and then choose a level (dependent upon your character's Magic attribute).

</tbody>

Fireball

This spell unleashes fiery orbs into the spell caster's field of vision, striking whatever is in range. It is, alas, probably the most popular spell in times of war, as some fire-scarred landscapes attest.

A fireball can be used to ignite gasses (in mines, for example) to blow open new passageways.

A fireball scroll can be found in one of the chests in the Urbish Mining Company.
SPELLBOOK

Fireball I: Throws one small fireball, inflicting 20 points of fire damage.

Fireball II: Throws two small fireballs, inflicting 40 points of fire damage to one target. Can ignite gasses trapped in the mines to open doors.

Fireball III: Throws three small fireballs, inflicting 80 points of fire damage to targets.

Fireball IV: Throws two large fireballs, inflicting 100 points of fire damage to targets.

Freeze

This spell lowers the local temperature below freezing level. This is a popular household spell, used to preserve food. Some malcontents, it has often been reported, employ this spell for more destructive uses.

Use Freeze to freeze and solidify any quicksand in the swamps. Otherwise, the party will instantly sink through. The higher level the spell, the longer the quicksand will remain frozen and able to bear weight. All levels of freeze will work to this effect.

A freeze scroll can be found on the second level of the Draracle Caves.

Freeze I: Inflicts 10 points of cold damage to all local targets.

Freeze II: Inflicts 20 points of cold damage to all local targets.

Freeze III: Inflicts 30 points of cold damage to all local targets.

Freeze IV: Encases local targets in a wall of ice and inflicts 55 points of cold damage. Also creates a temporary ice wall in some areas, useful for walling off monsters. If the monster is strong enough, he will break out of the ice after a couple of moments. If not, and the monster is dead, you'll have to shatter the ice yourself by striking it.

Lightning

By the Lightning spell the caster can summon lightning and direct it as his will dictates. When Lightning is cast a powerful electrical jolt will strike directly in front of the caster.

A Lightning scroll can be found in one of the chests in Opinwood.
SPELLBOOK

Lightning I: Inflicts 18 points of electrical damage to one target.

Lightning II: Inflicts 35 points of electrical damage to one target.

Lightning III: Inflicts 50 points of electrical damage to all local targets.

Lightning IV: Inflicts 72 points of electrical damage to all local targets.

Hand of Fate

By Hand of Fate, the caster can extend his will and manipulate a giant hand to harm or protect.

The Hand of Fate scroll can be found in one of the chests in a building in Yvel.

Hand of Fate I: Pushes enemies away from you.

Hand of Fate II: Pushes enemies away and can do 75 points of damage.

Hand of Fate III: Forms a fist and pounds a target for 125 points of damage.

Hand of Fate IV: Crushes a local target in its grasp for 175 points of damage.

Mists of Doom

Mists of Doom call upon the ancestors of the caster to rise from their ancient graves and destroy his enemies.

A Mists of Doom scroll can be found in one of the chests in the Catwalk Caverns.

MOD I: Inflicts 30 points of damage.

MOD II: Inflicts 70 points of damage.

MOD III: Inflicts 110 points of damage.

MOD IV: Inflicts 200 points of damage.

To "use" most of these items, take the item in-hand (left click on it) and then right-click it over the character to use it. Items that actually cast spells when you use them may require a minimum Magic from the character using it. If you get the message, "Not enough magic," the character using it is either not developed enough in Mage skill, lacks the requisite Magic, or needs to rest to restore Magic.

Ace of Dominion: Casts level IV of Hand of Fate. Can only be used once.

Ace of Oblivion: Casts level IV of Mists of Doom. Can only be used once.

Ace of Infinity: Restores all magic to the character using it.

Amber ring: Used to open a passage on the first level of the White Tower.

Bannon's Reserve: Restores all Magic to the character who drinks it.

Bezel Cup: Restores all Health and cures poison of character who uses it. The Bezel Cup can be used as many times as there are gems on the cup.

Bezel ring: Forged by the magic of Bannon Mastercraft, this ring protects the bearer from being poisoned.

Bloodstone: One of the spell ingredients for the Elixir of Tybal. When a rockling is killed (in the Urbish Mines), it will sometimes leave a bloodstone. When thrown, it will do damage as a regular rock would.

Ceremonial Mask: The Gorkha will trade the Ruby of Truth in their possession for this bronze helmet. It is found in the Swamp, carried by one of the Hurzels.

Dark Commander's Statuette: Used to open the path to the Xeob-Knowles area. Place it on the pedestal near to Dark Commander to open the passage.

Diamond: Used to free Dawn from the Crystal Ball trapping her in Castle Cimmeria.
Special Items

Duble ring: This ring improves the recovery of health points for the wearer.

Earth Vial: Holds Earth Powder, an ingredient for the Elixir of Tybal. Earth Powder is only sold at Sadie's in the City of Yvel.

Ebony Staff: Casts 5 charges of Swarm.

Emerald Blades: These twin blades are quite useful when engaging dead spirits such as apparitions, wraiths, and the haunts of slain cabal warriors. Emerald blades provide excellent defense against undead creatures.

Emerald eye: Carried around by Ratmen, who roam the first level of the Draracle Cave. When placed in the eye of the north-wall dragon in the second level of the Draracle's Cave, it opens a passageway to more fun in the Draracle's playhouse.

Empty Vial: Use to collect ingredients for the Elixir of Tybal.

Enemy Vial: A vial holding Hornet Honey, and thus used as an ingredient for the Elixir of Tybal. The Hornet Honey can be found in Upper Opinwood.

Enchanted Crucible: The ingredients for the Elixir of Tybal must be mixed in this crucible, in the White Tower.

Figurines: Cobra, Dragon, Unicorn, Humanoid: All four of these figurines must be used in order to remove Scotia's dark shroud surrounding the Crystal Casket.

Gear: Fixes the mechanism of the pump (machine) in the Urbish Mining Co.

Gauntlets of Force: Can be retrieved from the Dark Commander. Pushes enemies back when used. To use it, place it in the weapon slot in the equipment screen. When used on hand-shaped impressions in the Catwalk Caverns, it will act as a key to open passages.

Gold jewel: Used to open the door to the mine cart in the third level of the Urbish Mines.
SPECIAL ITEMS

Green Skull: Casts Caustic Fog spell, which does 15 acid damage points. The Larkhon in the Urbish Mining Co. is very vulnerable to acid.

Guardian Globe: Conjures a Guardian Sword, which will strike at enemies in the immediate area. It can harm creatures only affected by magic, and does 200 points (average) damage to enemies in the immediate area. It is consumed upon use unless there are no enemies to attack.

Hornet Honey: An ingredient for the Elixir of Tybal. It can be found in Upper Opinwood, and it must be collected in a vial.

Jade Necklace: This green necklace, when donned, improves the wearer's Rogue skill by one level.

Jeweled dagger: If you take the Sapphire path in the Draracle's Caves, present this as a tribute to the Draracle. When used as a weapon, the jeweled dagger does more damage than regular daggers.

Lockpicks: Take in-hand and right-click over the lock. Can be used for door locks as well as chest locks. Success of lock picking attempt depends on the difficulty of the lock and the Rogue skill of the active character. (See instruction manual p. 9.) Some locks cannot be picked.

Lump of Coal: Fuels the machine in the Urbish Mining Co.

Magnet stone: Compass that tells you what direction you're facing. Philip at the Grey Eagle Inn or Roland, both in the Southlands, will give you a magnet stone when you meet him.

Oil: Used to replenish lantern, and found in ample quantity throughout the Lands.

Pyramid keys: Dawn, Paulson, Geron, Nathaniel: All four of these pyramid keys must be used in order to free King Richard from the Crystal Casket.

Riddle Scroll: This scroll is given to you by the Draracle, and initially lists the ingredients for the Elixir of Tybal as a riddle. The witch doctor in the Swamps, Dawn, and Paulson in the Urbish Mines can help decipher the riddle. Sadie in the City of Yvel has to see this before she will give you the Earth Powder.
SPECIAL ITEMS

Ruby of Truth: Part of the Whole Truth. The Ruby can be found in the Gorkha Swamp. When worn as a necklace, it adds 5 to Protection.

Sapphire eye: Found in a chest on the second level of the Draracle Caves. When placed in the eye of the east-wall dragon in the second level of the Draracle's Cave, it opens a passage through the caves.

Scroll (spell): Right-click the scroll over your character to inscribe that scroll in your spellbook. The Fireball scroll can be found in the Urbish Mining Company. The Freeze scroll can be found on the second level of the Draracle Caves. The Hand of Fate scroll can be found in one of the buildings in Yvel. The Lightning scroll can be found in a chest in Opinwood. The Mists of Doom scroll can be found in a chest in the Catwalk Caverns.

Scroll (non-spell): Right click the scroll over your character to read the scroll or message.

Shard of Truth: Part of the Whole Truth. King Richard gives you this when he is recovered from his illness. When worn as a ring, it adds 5 to Protection.

Silver goblet: If you take the Sapphire path in the Draracle's Caves, present this as a tribute to the Draracle. Silver goblet, when used, can also heal characters.

Swarm: Summons a swarm of insects to attack enemies in the immediate area. Does 10 points damage to most beasts. Insects, ethereal creatures, and stone creatures are not affected by Swarm.

Vaelan's Cube: When black, Vaelan's Cube can absorb magic by damaging magical beings and destroying magical barriers. When white, Vaelan's Cube can transmit magic, and thus can be used on any character to restore up to 25 points of magic.

Wands: When used, cast a specified spell (e.g., Fireball Wand casts fireballs) at a power level corresponding to the number of charges the wand has. As the charges are consumed, the power level decreases. Do not equip a character to use this as a weapon. It must be in-hand and right-clicked over the character using it.
